Conference Overview:

PPPKAM had been organizing the National Public Health Conference since 1996 with the support from its members from Ministry of Health, universities, army, and private organizations.

The Eleventh National Public Health Conference (NPHC) is planned to be held in 2023 as the biennial conference. As the conference is viewed as an important platform for public health professionals and partners to meet, share and exchange views regarding current and future public health concerns, the President and council members of PPPKAM committed to organize it in physical mode as we have moved to COVID-19 endemic transition phase since 1st April 2022.

As regard to the recent new health policies developments as of Health White Paper, ANMS (Agenda Nasional Malaysia Sihat) and GEG for Tobacco Control (Generational End Game) plus the difficulties during COVID-19 were concern, the NPHC Committee propose those complete spectrum of public health to be touched with focus on future issues of healthcare especially pertaining to the Health White Paper.
